

LEDGER

JANUARY 9, 1899.

ONE CENT.

Unrestored happens." Largest and to-date Accident and Casualty Company represented by Pickett & Alexander at once. Tomorrow may be the day when we learn that Governor Bradlee's present of a service as a token of their high for Kautsky's Chief Magistrate, General Bradley has been exceedingly kind to the Times and will no doubt appreciate this material expression of the regard of the Regiment for him.

Our advertising patrons will please send us copy for changes on Saturday instead of Monday morning. The accumulation of Sunday news makes an extra amount of typesetting Monday morning, and it is physically impossible for even Printers to crowd six hours work into three. Heretofore we cannot promise changes when the copy is sent on Monday morning. Remember, also, that The Logan goes to press two hours earlier than any other paper.

DEATH'S HARVEST

Key. John S. Hays, D. B., Ends a Long and Useful Life.

WAS OF A REMARKABLE FAMILY

After an illness extending over a period of several weeks, Saturday about 1:30 p. m. the long and useful life of the Rev. John S. Hays, D. B., was brought to a close.

John Smith Hays was born at Plum Run, Pa., in 1838. He came of good Scotch-Irish ancestry, which had been for generations found in the way of righteousness.

The brothers and sisters of deceased have been celebrated for their connection with the Ministry and with educational work. Two of his brothers were distinguished clergymen, one of them being a member of the General Assembly.

One sister, the wife of Dr. McPhee, gave the better part of her life with her husband in Missionary work in Samoa.

Five nephews are now in the Ministry or are actively engaged in preparation for it, and the only son of Hays, Dr. W. Ray, is entering on the work when released by death. For brilliancy and power of intellect the Hays family has been most remarkable.

Dr. Hays graduated in 1856 from Jefferson College, Washington, Pa., and in 1861 was ordained by Presbytery of New Albany.

Since his ordination, Dr. Hays has filled Pastorate in several states, besides filling positions of honor in Colleges and Church Councils.

From 1862-7 he was connected with the Presbyterian Church at Charlestown, Ind., at the same time teaching school there; from 1867-61 he was Pastor of the Second Church at Nashville, Tenn., afterwards going to Cincinnati, O., where for six months in 1862 he was Pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church.

Serving his connection there he went to Frankfort, this state, where he was Pastor for two years, from 1862-7, also teaching School.

His next field of work was at Louisville, where he preached at the Walnut Street Church from 1867 to 1875.

In 1875 Dr. Hays became Professor of Church History at the Theological Seminary at Danville, the College two years before, in 1873, having received the Degree of Doctor of Divinity on his more distinguished man.

He held the Chair at the Danville Seminary until 1882, during which year he went to Quinter, Ill., where he again became Pastor of the Church.

Leaving there in 1882 Dr. Hays came to this city, and it is from that period of his life to the time of his death that our people knew him best.

Here for fourteen years he has been Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and Principal of Haywood Seminary, one of the best known institutions of learning for girls in Northern Kentucky.

Throughout the neccessary Pastor's life he has been prominent for his high connection in Church work, as the record of his Pastorate will show, and at different times has held most of the honored and coveted places in the councils of Presbytery.

A number of years since, by an accident, Dr. Hays lost his eyeight, but through his indomitable will and courage continued his work at the Church and in his Seminary.

Certainly no man in Kentucky was more widely known than the Reverend gentleman whose death is now so sincerely mourned.

He was twice married, his second wife and two daughters by his first wife—Misses Anna, Pauline, and Carrie Hays, Mrs. J. Foster Mathews, Mrs. C. L. Anderson, and Mrs. William Mathews of Los Angeles, Cal.—surviving.

His daughters have inherited the gifts and tastes of the Hays family for educational work.

The funeral will be held at the First Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

Services will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with services by the Rev. John Harbour, assisted by Dr. Maurice Walker.

George D. Archibald of Covington, his old colleague at Danville Theological Seminary, had been invited to conduct services but was unable to come.

The remains will be taken to early train tomorrow morning and will be interred by the

Rev. Mr. Walker.

The funeral will be held at the First

Presbyterian Church this afternoon

